> Ferry field, where the University of Michigan's athletic plant is situated, is adequate for the staging of a large track and field meet such as the intercollegiate. In 1920 the Western conference track and field meet was held on Ferry field and Big Ten teams found every facility for the proper conduct of the meet. The Michigan cinder track, which is one of the best and fastest in the country, has a 220yard straightaway for the dashes and hurdles, a quarter mile track with only one turn, and six lanes can be made in the track. The javelin throw, pole vault, high jump and broad jump are run off in the area inside the track. Close, unobstructed views of all the events are afforded from the stands, which will
